Safe Banking Systems Recognized as Point Solutions Provider in Chartis 2014 RiskTech Quadrants®

Identifies significant vendors in financial crime risk management

MINEOLA, NY, January 21, 2015 – Safe Banking Systems, a technology enabled company and provider of SAFE Advanced Solutions® for anti-money laundering and compliance, today announced that it has been recognized as a Point Solutions provider in the Chartis Financial Crime Risk Management Systems 2014 RiskTech Quadrants®. This comprehensive analysis from Chartis highlights risk technology vendors whose innovative solutions, market penetration, completeness of offering or other attributes provide the company with a significant presence in a given target market. The accompanying research report provides an authoritative review of the financial crime risk management market and uses Chartis’ RiskTech Quadrants to explain the vendor landscape.

“Being recognized by Chartis in each of the four RiskTech Quadrants: enterprise fraud technology, AML and transaction monitoring, Know Your Customer (KYC) and client onboarding, and watch list monitoring, validates the breadth and effectiveness of our solutions in combating financial crime,” said David Schiffer, president & CEO, Safe Banking Systems. “We continue to innovate and expand our offerings to keep pace not only with changing regulations, but with financial criminals who are increasingly adept at exploiting gaps in AML systems.”

“According to the Financial Crime Risk Management Systems report, financial institutions identified AML and KYC as their next highest priority after cybersecurity,” said Peyman Mestchian, managing partner at Chartis. “Safe Banking Systems’ strength in these areas
